

Are you an adult or the parent of an adolescent suffering from persistent asthma?

Do you or your adolescent have daily symptoms of asthma and sometimes have symptoms at night?

Lovelace Scientific Resources is conducting a clinical research study evaluating existing medications. You can help us evaluate which medications or combinations of medicines offer a better outcome for patients with persistent asthma.

If you or your adolescent are at least 12 years old, suffer with persistent asthma and use inhaled medication each day to treat asthma, you or your adolescent may be eligible to participate in this clinical trial.

All study related visits, study-related medical evaluations and study drug will be provided at no cost to you during the study. No medical insurance is needed. Payment for time and travel may be available to qualified participants.
